

We're looking for an awesome Software Engineering Intern.

Origami Sports is seeking a Software Engineer to join our passionate Tech Team. If you are looking for an opportunity to develop your tech skills and have fun at the same time, then apply straight away!

We are a young start up made up of data and software experts that provide services to elite representation agencies, football clubs and brands in order to identify the talents of the next generation. We currently work with professional football clubs in the Spanish La Liga, the English Premier League and the Italian Serie A. As a Software Engineering Intern in Origami Sports you'll help the team continue the development of the product, enhance the quality of our code base and contribute with new ideas as well as learning the latest technologies, frameworks and procedures in the market.

The internship will consist of 25 hours a week at our offices in Madrid and the selected intern will work closely with the CTO. Origami Sports will provide a stipend to the intern as well as a MacBook and Apple products as working material.

Tasks

- Help with the development and maintenance of the internal web application.
- Help with maintenance and consistency of database
- Development of new APIs and enhancement of APIs and integrations already in place

- Help increasing Unit Test and Integration Test coverage of internal applications
- Correction of bugs and errors of internal applications

Requirements

- Currently pursuing a degree in Computer Science
- Knowledge of Unix Environment and Shell scripting
- Knowledge of Java
- Knowledge in web development (HTML, CSS, Javascript)
- Basic knowledge of Database management (SQL or similar)
- Good communication skills (English)

Preferred Qualifications

- Knowledge in any of the following frameworks/libraries: JQuery, Spring, Hibernate, NodeJS or D3.js
- Familiar with PosgreSQL Database
- Comfortable using tools like Git, Maven and/or WebPack
- Interest in sports and the science behind it
- Flair for statistical analysis

Internship Details

- 25 flexible hours per week
- 6 month program with possibility of renewal or full time contract
- Place: Madrid
- Starting Date 5th of June

Does it sound cool? Then you can send us your CV and cover letter to general@origamisports.com. Origami Sports is a proud member of the Global Sports Innovation Center powered by Microsoft.

If you want to know more about Origami Sports and what we do, check out our website <http://origamisports.com> or our latest features at El País or Marca http://deportes.elpais.com/deportes/2017/01/06/actualidad/1483670648_357161.html
<http://www.marca.com/primer-plana/2017/04/05/58df86dde2704e3a4b8b4651.html>.

