

Internship International Corporate Tax at PWC Luxembourg

Line of Service: Tax

Industry/Sector: Asset and Wealth Management

Specialism: Banking & Finance

Management Level: Intern/Trainee

Job Description & Summary

A career in our Financial Services Tax practice, within Corporate Tax services, will provide you with the opportunity to help our clients meet their tax obligations while managing the impact tax has on their business. You'll advise clients on their local and overseas tax affairs, while acting as a strategic consultant related to business analysis, managing working capital, and profit sharing for partners. You'll also help organisations understand the pricing implications of goods and services between related parties, as well as providing advice on tax implications of deals.

Our team helps our Financial Services clients navigate the frequently changing and complex national and international tax environment related to stringent capital requirements, management of operational tax risks, and tax implications of investing in different jurisdictions. You'll help our clients with their tax structuring while helping to address the challenges of the continuously changing tax world, both locally and globally.

Responsibilities

As an Intern/Trainee, you'll work as part of a team of problem solvers with extensive consulting and industry experience, helping our clients solve their complex business issues from strategy to execution.

You'll be a part of an environment that broadens your functional training, personal and technical skills, and deepens your knowledge of client services. You'll play an integral role supporting staff as needed for an outstanding variety of work and making contributions to the team on a daily basis.

Our international corporate tax department offers tax consulting services to companies wanting to invest in or through Luxembourg. We serve different types of clients and are organized accordingly:

- Operational Companies
- Alternative investments (including Hedge Funds, Private Equity and Real Estate practices)
- Asset Management
- Banking and Insurance

As an Intern (m/f), you will:

- Verify the application of local and international treaties;
- Conduct research on Luxembourg and international tax legislation to answer the clients' daily queries;
- Participate in the updating of the clients' files;
- Help to find suitable solutions to avoid double taxation if possible;
- Work in cross-disciplined teams (Value Added Tax, Transfer Pricing, etc.) to help to give fiscal opinions/write memos for business leaders/asset managers taking into account the constant regulatory changes.

Your profile

- You will soon have a Master's degree in tax law or business law (or a degree in economics with an additional education in tax law);
- You are looking for an experience in an international firm and have to complete an end of studies internship with a minimum of 3 months;
- You are a student during the entire length of the internship period;
- You have a strong interest in international corporate tax and a first professional experience in this field would be an asset;
- You have a good command of Microsoft Office Excel;
- You are fluent in English and French, our two working languages.

In your application, please specify:

- Your desired start date and the maximum length of your internship
- Which sector interests you most and why: Operational Companies or Alternative investments (including Hedge Funds, Private Equity and Real Estate practices) or Asset Management or Banking and Insurance.
